OBJECTIVES FOR PROGRAMMES CONDUCTED IN ADVANCED LEARNER PROGRAMMES

Overall Aims and Objectives

- Promote of Deep Understanding of the subject: Guiding the students to a comprehensive grasp of complex pathological concepts and their clinical applications.
- Encouragement of Analytical Skills: Developing the ability to analyze and interpret diagnostic data critically, essentially linking pathology of the disease to the patient outcomes.
- Support Research Initiatives: Promotion of inquiry and innovation in the field of pathology.
- Facilitate Interdisciplinary Learning: Understanding the integrated nature of healthcare.

These following programmes were conducted with an aim to elevate the educational experience of advanced learners in pathology, and thus making them well equipped for the complexities of modern medicine.

1. Specialized Topics in Immunopathology
2. Tumor Biology and Oncopathology
3. Digital Pathology and Telepathology
4. Quality Assurance and Laboratory Management in Pathology
5. Research Methodologies in Pathology

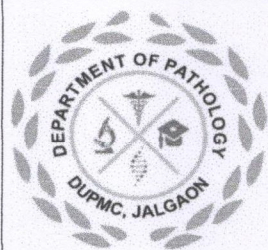

In addition to the formal teaching modalities a few techniques were also utilized, such that the learning became more interactive than monotonous and the students utilized their critical thinking to understand the subject rather than memorize the subject

Peer Teaching Sessions

- Format: Students prepare and teach short topics to their peers in an informal setting.
- Objective: The best way to learn is teach, plus it develops confidence.

Mentorship Programs

- Format: Pair students with mentors who can provide guidance and support throughout their learning.

- Objective: Foster a supportive relationship that encourages growth and addresses individual challenges.

The aim would be to create an engaging and interactive learning experience for advanced learners in pathology, encouraging them to explore the field actively and collaboratively. This approach prepares students for real-world clinical scenarios in a supportive and interactive environment.

The classes were conducted every week on Tuesdays between 5-6PM

OBJECTIVES FOR PROGRAMMES CONDUCTED IN SLOW LEARNER PROGRAMMES

Concept Mapping

Method: Employ visual diagrams to link ideas and concepts in the field of pathology.

Usage: Instructors guide learners in constructing concept maps that illustrate the connections between diseases, their causes, and their effects, aiding in visualization.

Storytelling

Method: Utilize stories to explain concepts in pathology and clinical cases.

Usage: Instructors share anecdotes from their professional experiences with patients, making the information more relatable and easier to remember, followed by discussions with the learners.

Peer Teaching

Method: Motivate students to instruct each other in pairs or small groups.

Usage: Instructors oversee and assist in peer-teaching sessions, enabling students to explain topics to their peers, thereby reinforcing their own understanding and helping others.

Interactive Demonstrations

Method: Employ live demonstrations to showcase key techniques and concepts.

Usage: Instructors demonstrate basic laboratory procedures (such as microscope usage) followed by practical exercises, providing immediate feedback and support.

Gamification

Method: Integrate game elements into educational activities.

Usage: Instructors organize quiz contests or interactive games to reward participation and achievement, making the learning process enjoyable and engaging.

Multimedia Presentations

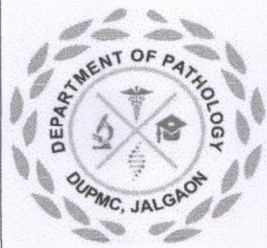

Method: Utilize a variety of media (videos, podcasts, infographics) to convey information.

Usage: Instructors guide learners in creating multimedia presentations on pathology topics, promoting creativity and a deeper understanding.

Mindfulness and Relaxation Techniques

Method: Incorporate mindfulness exercises to alleviate anxiety before learning.

Usage: Instructors lead brief mindfulness sessions at the start of meetings to assist students in focusing and achieving a state of relaxation.

Email ID : dupmc.pathology.ia@gmail.com Web Site : www.dupmc.ac.in

Incremental Learning

Method: Introduce new concepts gradually, building upon previously acquired knowledge.

Usage: Instructors collaborate closely with learners to evaluate their comprehension and introduce increasingly complex topics, ensuring they are prepared for further advancement.

Feedback Loops

Method: Offer consistent and constructive feedback to learners.

Usage: Instructors conduct review sessions following quizzes or practical exercises, discussing outcomes and areas for improvement to reinforce the learning process.

Overall Aims and Objectives

Establish a Supportive Environment: Create an atmosphere where learners feel secure in expressing challenges and asking questions, with instructors playing a crucial role in this support.

Engage Diverse Learning Styles: Employ varied techniques to accommodate different learning preferences, thereby making the learning experience more accessible, with instructors tailoring approaches to meet individual needs.

Enhance Understanding: Ensure learners grasp fundamental concepts through engaging and interactive methods, supported by instructor guidance for personalized assistance.

Build Confidence: Empower learners through practice and positive reinforcement from instructors, aiding in their journey towards becoming proficient in their studies.

Promote Collaborative Learning: Encourage teamwork and peer assistance, with instructors facilitating group activities to promote knowledge sharing and reinforcement.

The classes will be conducted every week on Thursdays between 5-6PM.
