

4.1.1 – Adequacy of Teaching–Learning Facilities

Dr. Ulhas Patil Medical College, affiliated with MUHS and governed by the National Medical Commission, provides robust infrastructure that fully meets prescribed standards. The college offers excellent facilities for both undergraduate and postgraduate programs, including well-equipped classrooms, ICT-enabled learning spaces, seminar halls, clinical training areas, Acoustic lecture hall-1 and specialized laboratories. Each of its 24 departments is equipped with dedicated spaces for faculty, departmental libraries, museums, and seminar rooms, creating an ideal academic atmosphere.

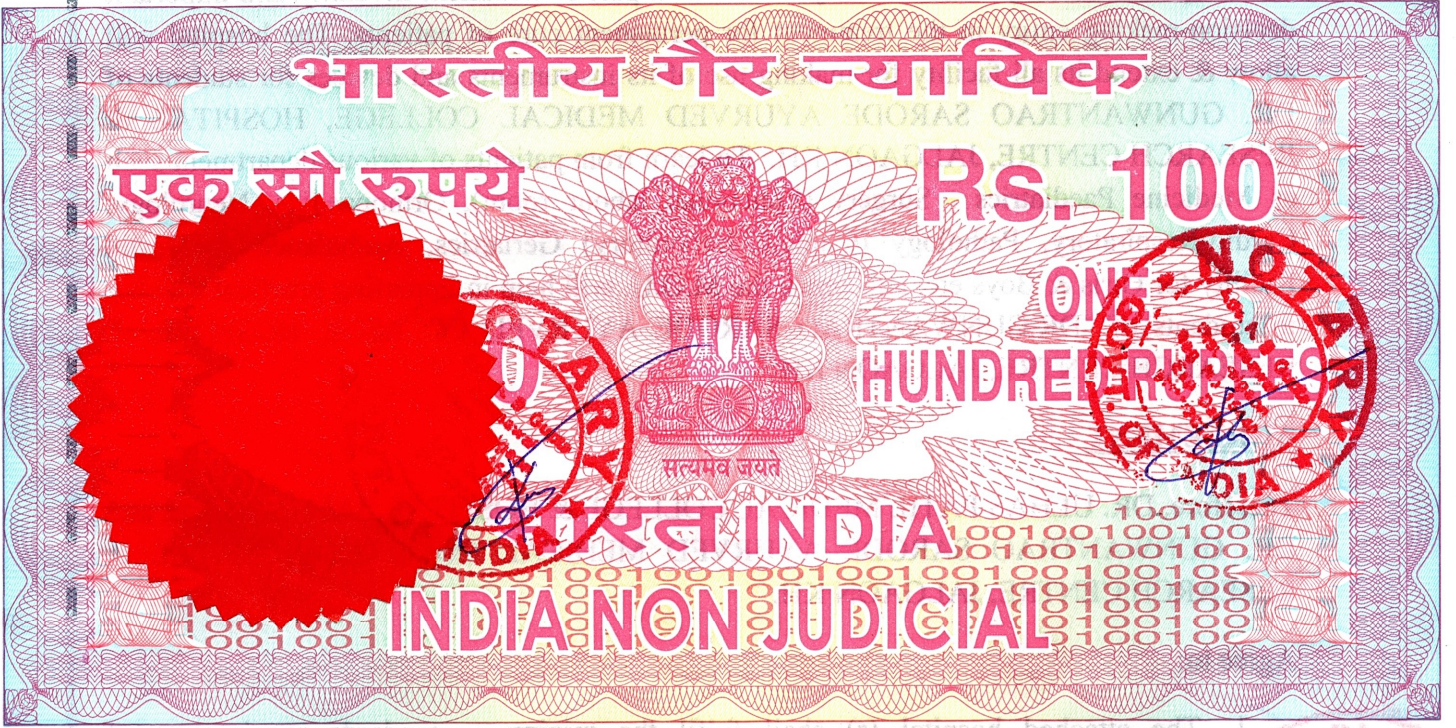

The campus is thoughtfully designed with well-ventilated lecture halls, well-lit laboratories, seminar rooms, and a rich central library. Classrooms are equipped with modern technology such as LAN connectivity, high-speed internet, and LCD projectors, in line with regulatory norms.

To promote experiential and community-based learning, the institution operates both rural and urban health training centers, offering accommodation and transportation facilities for students and faculty during postings. Clinical training is strengthened through an attached teaching hospital, outpatient departments, simulation rooms, and skill labs that provide practical exposure to essential medical procedures.

Furthermore, the institution maintains updated museums and clinical specimens, underscoring its focus on hands-on learning. Overall, Dr. Ulhas Patil Medical College delivers a comprehensive, technology-enabled, and practice-oriented learning environment for holistic medical education.
